President's message

This year, the Hunter TAFE Foundation has witnessed firsthand the shifting realities facing students who aspire to build their futures through vocational education. The challenges are real and growing; rising living costs, housing pressures, and the need to balance work, family and study are now everyday experiences for many.

Yet, in the face of the obstacles, recipients of our scholarships and awards continue to show extraordinary courage and resilience. Their stories remind us why our work matters. Every scholarship and award is more than financial support. It's a message that someone believes in their potential and is willing to stand behind them.

This year, we were honoured to support 82 students across 28 categories, each with their own unique story and vision for their future. These opportunities are only possible because of the generosity of our valued donors.

Your support is a lifeline, helping students stay enrolled, complete their training, and step confidently into the workforce.

I would also like to acknowledge our dedicated volunteer Board; your time, energy and expertise are truly valued. Your support helps us stay responsive to student needs, inclusive in our approach, and focussed on what really matters. Your leadership and commitment are helping us grow, evolve and reach more students than ever before. In addition, I would like to give a special welcome to our newest Directors, Melissa Rowe and Sam Gannon. We're thrilled to have you on board and already grateful for the fresh perspectives and enthusiasm you bring. It's exciting to see how quickly you've jumped in and started contributing to the Foundation's work. We are lucky to have you.

As we look ahead, our focus remains clear: breaking down barriers to education and ensuring that no one is left behind because of their circumstances. Together, we can help more people access the skills and opportunities they need to thrive.

Thank you for being part of this vital work. Your belief in our students is shaping a stronger, more inclusive future for our communities.

Yours sincerely,
Karen Howard, FAICD
President

Honouring a legacy: The Kay Peno Encouragement Award

Established in memory of long-serving Hunter TAFE Foundation Board Director, Kay Peno, the Kay Peno Encouragement Award honours her deep commitment to education and passion for helping learners realise their potential. Kay joined the Foundation in 2008, bringing with her strong educational leadership from her role as Director with the NSW Department of Education, where she supported schools and principals across Lake Macquarie from 2007 to 2016. This special award supports students in their chosen career path and encourages future female leaders into the workforce, reflecting Kay's enduring legacy of empowerment through education.

Melanie Cameron was one of the first recipients to receive the Kay Peno Encouragement Award in 2024, showing remarkable determination and growth since beginning her studies at TAFE NSW. Her teachers describe Melanie as a dedicated and driven student, with aspirations to study Social Science. But her journey wasn't always so clear. Returning as the keynote speaker at the recent presentation event in 2025, Melanie shared her powerful journey from domestic violence, addiction, and homelessness to becoming a passionate advocate for others through education.

Melanie Cameron

I was honoured to receive the award, and I was able to purchase a new laptop to aid in furthering my studies. Receiving the scholarship not only gave me financial help but made my confidence grow in ways I could never have imagined. To complete my studies and secure a job in an industry that I'm truly passionate about - that's my goal. Absolutely, I would encourage others to apply for the scholarship. These opportunities can truly change lives.

Bean Counters Ball: Supporting Future Financial Professionals in the Hunter and Central Coast Regions

Since its inception in 2010, the Bean Counters Ball has become a cornerstone of community support for education and youth in the Hunter region. A joint initiative of the local chapters of Certified Practising Accountants (CPA) and Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand, the Ball has raised over $280,000 to date! These funds that have directly contributed to scholarships, awards, and educational opportunities for local students.

One of the key outcomes of this initiative is the Bean Counters Achievement Award, presented twice each year to students enrolled in the Certificate IV in Accounting and Bookkeeping at TAFE NSW. The award recognises a student's commitment to their studies and encourages their transition into the workforce.

This year's recipient, Henry Weaver, is a dedicated and detail-oriented student whose strong work ethic and collaborative approach make him a standout in his field. The award provided both financial support and a boost in confidence as he completed his studies.

Henry recently completed his qualification and is actively seeking employment in bookkeeping, with plans to pursue further study.

Although nominated rather than applying directly, Henry is grateful for the recognition and support.

The Hunter TAFE Foundation is proud to partner with industry leaders to deliver initiatives like the Bean Counters Ball, which continue to open doors for students and strengthen the region's future workforce.

Henry Weaver

Finding out that I had won was a boost to my confidence that carried through as I completed my study. The funds helped support me in my search for work. My goal is to start work in the field and work towards additional qualifications.

Empowering potential: Emma Nicholson's Journey through the Mature Age Scholarship

Each year, the Hunter TAFE Foundation provides 36 Encouragement Scholarships to make a meaningful difference in the lives of students across the region, providing financial support and encouragement to those facing barriers to education. One such student is Emma Nicholson, recipient of the Hunter TAFE Foundation Mature Age Scholarship, whose story exemplifies resilience, ambition, and the transformative power of opportunity.

Emma is a high achiever, fully engaged in the Certificate III in Visual Arts at TAFE NSW Hunter Street. Balancing her studies with raising a young family and fulfilling her role as primary carer, Emma has shown remarkable determination and strength; qualities her teachers believe will carry her to any goal she sets.

The scholarship helped Emma cover essential costs such as course materials, travel, and childcare; expenses that can often be a barrier for mature age students returning to study.

Emma successfully completed the Certificate III in Visual Arts and is now undertaking the Diploma of Visual Arts, with plans to continue into the Bachelor of Creative Practice at TAFE NSW Hunter Street in 2026. She also hopes to volunteer at the Lake Macquarie Regional Art Gallery, contributing to their Arts for Children Program. "These opportunities can make a real difference in the lives of those that have very apparent barriers to accessing and participating in education," Emma said.

Emma's story is a testament to the impact of the Hunter TAFE Foundation's support; not just in easing financial burdens but in unlocking confidence, ambition, and a pathway to lifelong learning.

Winning this award was a significant turning point for me. It not only encouraged me to continue studying but also gave me the confidence to set goals that I previously thought were unachievable. It supported and encouraged me to look outside and beyond my home, my health and role as primary caregiver to begin building something for myself.

Aviation scholarships: Propelling Local Talent Toward High-Flying Careers

A dynamic partnership between TAFE NSW, Newcastle Airport and Astra Aerolab is helping local students take off in the aviation industry through the Newcastle Airport/Astra Aerolab Aviation Scholarships. These scholarships are designed to nurture and grow regional talent, supporting the development of highly skilled professionals needed to sustain this global sector.

Among the latest recipients is Michael Shain, who is charting a bold new course. He is balancing full-time work and family life with night classes in the Certificate II Aeroskills course at TAFE NSW Newcastle. With a hands-on mindset and a natural talent for mentoring, Michael has embraced everything from lockwire techniques to digital submissions, proving it's never too late to pivot into a passion.

"Winning the Newcastle Airport/Astra Aerolab Aviation Scholarship has given me the encouragement to continue with the Certificate II in Aeroskills, knowing I have the backing of the scholarship," Michael said.

Michael's dedication has already opened doors. He recently secured a position as an Aircraft Worker with BAE Systems, a role that complements his studies and offers valuable industry experience.

Looking ahead, Michael is focused on completing his qualification and exploring further opportunities in aviation.

Beyond financial support, the scholarship offers recipients a boost in confidence and valuable industry connections - key ingredients for a successful career.

It has provided me with a financial benefit to relieve the pressure whilst studying, making it easier to continue to learn and grow. I am still continuing studying the Cert II Aeroskills course during the night and was lucky enough to gain a position as an Aircraft Worker with BAE Systems. The Aeroskills course has helped me transition into the workforce through the positive learning experience the course has given me. My next goal is to finish the Cert II Aeroskills course which will help me with my current training at BAE Systems. Following this, maybe it's possible to pursue an apprenticeship in the aviation industry.

Empowering futures: Hayden Payne's Journey in Pathology Assistance

Hayden Payne is a standout student whose journey at TAFE NSW Newcastle exemplifies resilience, determination, and the power of opportunity. Having completed the Certificate III in Pathology Assistance, Hayden has shown exceptional drive – despite starting his studies later in life and managing a disability, he completed all units early, maintained perfect attendance, and is already planning his next steps in health sciences.

Awarded the Henry Harding Memorial Award through the Hunter TAFE Foundation, Hayden received not only recognition for his efforts but also vital support to continue his educational journey. This support has helped Hayden invest in resources that enhance his learning experience and fuel his ambition.

Currently enrolled in an online course, Hayden is working toward completing a Certificate III in Medical Administration, with plans to follow it with a Certificate IV in Business. His goals reflect a clear vision for a future in the health and administration sectors – one built on a strong foundation of education and perseverance.

Hayden's story is a powerful example of how targeted support can help students overcome barriers and thrive. "Yes, it is beneficial for anyone who is struggling," he says, encouraging others to apply for the scholarship.

The Henry Harding Memorial Award has given Hayden the confidence and tools to build a bright future in the industry. His journey highlights the profound impact of community-backed initiatives and the importance of investing in students who show promise, passion, and resilience.

Hayden Payne

The award assisted me in the accumulation of study tools and encouraged pursuit of more training.

Teachers and staff committed to making a difference

Since the inception of the Employee Charitable Contribution fund in 2016, employees of TAFE NSW from the Hunter and Central Coast region have continued to invest in the future of our students. A partnership between TAFE NSW and the Hunter TAFE Foundation established the program, allowing employees to contribute a chosen value as part of a post-tax-deductible donation.

The funds raised through the payroll program are dedicated to supporting the increasing number of students experiencing financial and/or personal hardship that reach out to the Foundation for financial support. The Employee Charitable Contribution initiative is another example of how the Hunter TAFE Foundation is contributing towards a positive community spirit and endeavouring to change the lives of students choosing to study with TAFE NSW in the Hunter and Central Coast.
